

Revit Terms of Use

Baltimore Aircoil Company (“BAC”) created this Revit content (“Content”) and it is the property of BAC. It is not to be copied or used, directly or indirectly, in whole or in part, to assist in making or to furnish any information for the making of Content or other reproductions hereof, or for the making of any part or component part shown therein, without the written consent of BAC. This content is loaned with the expressed agreement that the Content and information contained therein are the property of BAC. The acceptance of this content will be construed as an acceptance of the foregoing agreement.

The information contained in these Content files is subject to change and should always be confirmed at the time of purchase. All Content is provided on an “as is” and “with all faults” basis. The intent of this Content is to support personal or business computer-aided design activities. This content may not be copied or posted on any internet web site. The end user shall evaluate, and bear all risks associated with the use of any Content, including any reliance on the accuracy, completeness, or usefulness of such Content. BAC is not liable in any way for any Content, including, but not limited to, any errors or omissions in any Content, or for any loss or damages of any kind incurred as a result of the use of any Content.

BAC allows modification of the downloaded Content solely for personal or business computer-aided design use. Modifications that result in invalid or unsupported product configurations shall release BAC from any obligations to supply anything other than supported product configurations. Removing, modifying, minimizing, obscuring or blocking any portion of all trademark, copyright or other proprietary notices of BAC is prohibited.

BAC does not make any warranty or guarantee whatsoever, whether express or implied, and including but not limited to, any warranty of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, or make any representations regarding the use, or the results of use, of the Content in terms of its accuracy, validity, completeness, applicability, or compliance with any regulatory code or governmental laws and regulations. Use of the Content involves some risks, and the entire risk as to the results and performance of the Information is the user’s responsibility and liability.
